SUMMARY

I am a person who likes to socialize, meet and even work together with people I have just met. I am also known as a good listener so I am able to grasp the essence of the problem and provide the right solution. I am also a responsible person in carrying out my duties. Trustworthy and always interested in self-development and new experiences. I can adapt to new environments and respond quickly. I can also work together in a team and am able to communicate well.
